

Professional Development Pathway

In-house Professional Development Delivery

Overview

Be part of the Professional Development offer within your organisation and the wider Trust. Delivering training in a domain that you are expert in both enhances your colleagues, but also provides an excellent platform for your own professional development. The process of planning, effective delivery and sustaining implementation is both rewarding and challenging. Collaborate with, support and challenge your colleagues to improve their practice.

For further information about delivering Professional Development speak to your Line Manager or Headteacher.

